

1. The first step is to identify the problem or goal that needs to be addressed. This involves understanding the current situation and determining what needs to be changed or improved.

2. The second step is to analyze the problem or goal. This involves breaking down the problem into smaller, more manageable parts and identifying the underlying causes or factors that contribute to the problem.

3. The third step is to develop a plan or strategy to address the problem or goal. This involves identifying the resources available and determining the best course of action to take.

